Sedgwick County Election Office Offers New "Touch Screen" Voting

(Sedgwick County, Kansas) – The Sedgwick County Election Office will offer "touch screen" voting. This "touch screen" machine (Microvote Infinity) is easily accessible for persons with handicaps and is also equipped with an audio program for visually impaired voters.

The Microvote Infinity will be available to advance voters living in the City of Wichita, beginning March 19. Advance voting will take place in the Sedgwick County Election Office, located in the Historic Courthouse, 510 N. Main, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Most people are not aware that any registered voter in Sedgwick County is eligible to vote in advance of the election. Advance voting begins on March 19 and ends at noon on March 31.

"It is the right and duty for every citizen to vote," said Sedgwick County Commission Chairman Tim Norton. "This new "touch screen" voting will make the voting process easier for those with handicaps and those who are visually impaired.
